

THE CLEARFIELD PROGRESS

Volume VIII

Clearfield, Pennsylvania, Monday, September 15, 1913

Number 45

OSCAR MITCHELL SURE WINNER

His Nomination is Now Declared a Certainty

HE HAS MADE LARGE GAINS

Temperance Rallies Throughout the County Have Increased His Chance as People Understand That He is the Only Temperance Candidate in the Field—Non-partisan Voting.

Political prospects may change overnight, and therefore prognostications of last week may be upset between Saturday and Monday. There has undoubtedly been a change of sentiment among certain classes of voters since last Friday, and that change has been in favor of Oscar Mitchell's candidacy, whose nomination is freely predicted.

This change is indicated by the admissions of workers for the other candidates that Mr. Mitchell, always a strong candidate, has made heavy gains in the country districts in the past week.

Temperance Rallies.

That temperance rallies last week had an important bearing upon the situation is acknowledged by friends of all candidates, and these rallies have increased if not made certain the chances of nomination of Oscar Mitchell. About thirty of these rallies were held last week, and at each of them large numbers of people were present and after listening to speeches expressed their intention of supporting Mr. Mitchell and helping in every possible way to bring about his nomination and election.

The Only Temperance Candidate. Hundreds of voters were aware until they attended the rallies that there was a straight out temperance candidate for judge in the field, and that that candidate is Oscar Mitchell. When the speakers at the meetings made it plain that Mr. Mitchell is the only candidate who is pledged for a temperance campaign it was an easy matter to secure the promise of hundreds of citizens to vote for and aid in securing the nomination of Oscar Mitchell.

The sentiment throughout the county districts, therefore has undergone a big change in the past few days, and that change is in favor of Mr. Mitchell.

All Can Vote For Judge.

There are many voters who are of the opinion that if they vote for Oscar Mitchell for judge they will bind themselves to vote for other candidates than those on their own party ballots. A Democrat or a Republican can vote for Oscar Mitchell on the non-partisan ballot and then vote for the candidates on the Democratic or Republican ballot. The judicial ballot is separate from party ballot, and the voter who asks for a non-partisan judicial ballot need not tell the election officers what his political faith is. He simply votes for the candidates for judge as a citizen, not as a Democrat or as a Republican.

There are Two Ballots.

The voters should bear these facts in his mind: There are two separate ballots. The voter asks for a non-partisan judicial ballot, and having received it he places an X opposite the name Oscar Mitchell. This is all that is required of him. By voting for Mitchell the voter does not lose his right to vote for either the Democratic or Republican ballot containing names of his party's candidates for county, borough or township office.

The non-partisan ballot indicates that there is no politics connected with the nomination of judge and voters of all political faith may vote for any candidate on the judicial ballot without surrendering their right to vote for the candidates on their respective party ballots.

Entertained Little Friends.

The Misses Jane and Julia Wallace entertained about 60 of their little friends Saturday afternoon at their home on North Pine street. The little tots had a delightful time, playing all kinds of games. Refreshments were served.

First Trap Shoot.

On Saturday the Clearfield Gun club held its first match at the grounds in Pike's bottom, the scores being somewhat erratic, but giving promise of much better shooting in the future. The next shoot will be held Friday afternoon, September 19.

OSCAR MITCHELL

Only Real Temperance Candidate for County Judge.

A great many people are under the impression that there is more than one candidate for President Judge in the 16th judicial district favorable to temperance. This is a wrong impression. Some of the candidates are trying to carry the burden on both shoulders, but are not succeeding very admirably. It is impossible to have the support of the liquor element of the county and be a temperance man, and it is said that twelve thousand dollars has been collected by the liquor interests for a candidate who is posing as a temperance man.

The Temperance Workers League of Clearfield county investigated this question before selecting a candidate to support this year, and this League is composed of men, who have been fighting the liquor business for years and are conscientious, christian characters, who have no political axe to grind. After going over the answers to nine questions submitted to the candidates for President Judge very carefully they have chosen Oscar Mitchell to carry the temperance banner and it is well to remember that if the temperance people unite on one candidate they can win the coming election. Do not be deceived by the enemy who is trying to convince you there is another candidate besides Oscar Mitchell who is favorable to temperance.—Mahaffey Times.

GOLDEN BEES.

Secured Considerable Money For Children's Ward at Hospital.

The young girls who comprise the Golden Bees club on Saturday made a house to house canvass, selling flowers for the benefit of the children's ward at the Clearfield hospital. The girls gathered in $32.50 by this means.

The club returns thanks to Mrs. Richard Gilbert, of the West Side, who furnished the girls with most of the flowers offered for sale.

No Fair Held Here.

A Reader, Madras.—There is no fair held in Clearfield. A fair is held at DuBois, and if you want any information regarding the same address Secretary Fair Association, DuBois.—Editor the Progress.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Joe Letic and Mary Twikhan, both of Helvetia.

Frank Gnozek and Catherine Frankovic, both of Monaca, Pa.

Lucien F. Triponey, of Karthaus, and Ralph A. Lutzler, of Surveyor.

Frank B. Gallaher, of New Washington, and Golden Westover of Chest township.

Mrs. David C. Mack Dead.

Mrs. David C. Mack, mother of Edgar M. Mack, contracting engineer of Mahaffey, died at her home in Indiana, Pa., Friday.

How to Be an Inventor.

A retired professor of mechanical engineering was called upon to deliver a few lectures on invention to the senior engineering classes. His first injunction was that when one attempts to devise a machine to do a certain thing, one must consider directly the fundamental operations to be performed and must wipe from the mind all existing methods and all preconceived notions. He stated that one so called inventor attempted in the days of the scythe to invent a mowing machine. Being familiar only with the scythe, he designed a horse drawn machine which would swing a scythe. He simply replaced the man by a mechanism. It is needless to say that his invention did not survive. The problem of efficiently cutting hay and grain was not successfully solved until it was attacked by a man with an open mind, and he devised the knife of the modern mowing machine or reaper.—American Machinist.

The Perfect Cup of Coffee.

Fill a kettle with fresh cold water that has run for a few moments and put it to boil. Place over an open china teapot kept just for coffee (as metal is deleterious) a clean wet old linen napkin or a new square of unbleached muslin, letting it sag toward the center. Put into the depression four heaping tablespoonsful (for four cups of coffee) of finely pulverized Java and Mocha or any preferred brand of coffee. When the water in the kettle is at the galloping point pour it through the coffee slowly until four cupfuls have filtered through. Just the contents of the kettle can go in if measured before boiling, allowing a little for waste. Cover and take at once to table. Wash the cloth immediately after breakfast and keep in a jar of cold water, never permitting it to get dry, and freshening the water every day.—New York Times.

SHOT TO DEATH BY HIS BROTHER

Fatal Shooting Accident in Boggs Township Saturday

BOYS PLAY WITH A SHOT GUN

One Lad Believing That the Weapon Was Unloaded, Playfully Points It at His Brother and Pulls the Trigger.—Whole Face Blown Away.

Saturday afternoon at about 3 o'clock a fatal shooting accident occurred at the home of Wm. Albright in Boggs township. From what can be learned of the affair the young sons of William Albright, in the absence of the other members of the family, secured a shot gun and going to a neighboring house borrowed several cartridges. Loading the gun the boys went to the barn and played with it for a while.

Pulled The Trigger.

The older boy finally pointed the weapon at the younger, the latter being about 13 years old, and playfully said:

"Look out, I'm going to shoot."

He pulled the trigger and his brother fell to the ground with his whole face shot away, death being instant. News of the accident spread and Dr. Buzzard, of Wallacetown, was called and proceeded to Albright's home but his services were not required, as the lad had been instantly killed. Word was sent to W. A. Mackery, in Clearfield, and he directed Dr. Polun, the coroner to hold an inquest.

Didn't Know It Was Loaded.

The boy who did the shooting says he thought that all of the cartridges had been removed from the gun. He feels very badly over the accident.

Dr. Buzzard says the wound in the boy's head was a frightful one, the hole through which the shot passed being large enough to permit of the entrance of his hand.

The Albright family is a large one there being 18 of the children living, and the sympathy of the community goes out to the parents in their affliction.

GAVE LUNCHEON

Miss Marian Bigler Entertains in Honor of Bride-to-Be.

Miss Marian Bigler entertained with a luncheon Saturday afternoon, at her home on second street, in honor of Miss Alice Bigler, whose marriage to John Provost, of Pittsburgh, will take place soon.

The house was beautifully decorated with ferns and white asters, large bells of flowers being suspended in the doorways, in which were concealed the presents which were showered upon Miss Alice as she entered.

About 50 guests were present among whom were several from Curwensville.

AGED LADY INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Serious Mishap Witnessed by Clearfield People

Sunday afternoon a party of Altoona autoists, consisting of Superintendent Russell, of Gable's store, his aged mother and other persons were thrown from their auto near Tyrone. Mrs. Russell, who is about 80 years old, being seriously hurt, Mr. Russell severely injured and a young lady having her hand cut open.

The accident was witnessed by a number of Clearfielders, among them William H. Patterson and family. Mr. Patterson says he believes the accident was caused by the bursting of a rear tire when Mr. Russell sought to avoid a motor car going in the opposite direction, the burst tire causing the machine to skid, throwing the occupants into a field by the side of the road. Mr. Patterson and his son helped to carry the aged woman into a nearby house and state that she appeared badly hurt.

If you have anything to advertise, or an advertisement in this paper, send watch the results.

PHILIPSBURG WAKES UP

Wants to Play a Series of Games With Clearfield Monarchs.

On Saturday the Clearfield Monarchs defeated the strong P. R. R. Y. M. C. A. team of Altoona in a fast game by a score of 5 to 1.

St. Clair pitched good ball for the Monarchs and was well backed up by the team. "Red" Lester has returned to the team and his playing was largely responsible for the victory on Saturday.

Phillipsburg, of the C. C. league, has challenged the Monarchs for a series of five games for $200, and if the local fans will support the Monarchs the games will be played.

PARK AVENUE FIRE

Slight Damage Done to House of Frank Cooper Today.

An alarm of fire this morning called out the department, but before the engine reached the scene it was stated that the fire had been extinguished.

The fire was at the home of Frank Cooper, on Park avenue, where the valley in the roof was ablaze. The damage was slight.

It is thought by Mr. Cooper that sparks from the kitchen stove when fire was started in the stove this morning set the roof afire and that the blaze had been smoldering since 6 o'clock, when the fire was built.

Dr. Swartz Preached.

Rev. Dr. M. E. Swartz, of York, Pa., preached in Trinity Methodist church Sunday. Dr. Swartz was formerly pastor of the Methodist church here.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

Rachel Phillips to Mark Maker, land in Ocedo, $350.

Nora Mille to David McGee, land in Gulick township, $75.

William Storey to David McGee, land in Gulick twp., $450.

David Diken, attorney in fact, to Dr. C. B. Elliot, land in Gulick twp. $1.

Sarah Shlider to Dr. C. B. Elliot, land in Gulick twp. $1.

One Year Ago.

One year ago Sunday, Brewer Roemer was shot and killed by John Keeler, now in jail waiting to learn whether he will be hanged or have his sentence commuted to imprisonment for life.

A FINE RECORD

Judge Smith the Right Man in the Right Place.

Judge Allison O. Smith has made such a fine record on the bench that his opponents are driven to their wits' ends to find material with which to combat him. They freely admit that public expenditures have been held down so that the county debt is practically wiped out. They admit that he handled the liquor question and the license problems as well as any judge in Pennsylvania. They admit that his decisions have been such as to commend the highest respect. They admit that his fearless interpretation of the laws has resulted in the re-organization of the coal business in the entire Clearfield district, so that the smaller operator is on terms of absolute equality with the "big fellows." They admit that his administration has been marked by honesty, uprightness, ability and impartiality.

Being absolutely without anything like a real argument, Judge Smith's opponents, his rivals who would fill his place and their supporters, have reached the pass where all they say is that the Judgeship ought to be handed around, that one term is enough, that the Judgeship ought to be made a political playground. Their whole stock in trade is the one-term only cry. Such a position is contrary to reason, logic and common wisdom. The experience gained by ten years' able and satisfactory judicial service and the broadening influences of a term on the bench are of incalculable benefit to the electors of this county.

Judge Smith is recognized throughout Pennsylvania as a jurist of the first rank, and his ten years of service are an assurance to every voter that Allison O. Smith is the right man in the right place. The "one-term only" hurrah is the shout of fighters driven to despair, the last resort of campaigners barren of arguments, and a platform without any foundation in reason to support it. Like all platforms without support it is bound to fall with a crash, to the great discomfiture of those who have clambered upon it. — Political Advertisement.

LYCEUM GROWS IN POPULARITY

Demand for High-Class Entertainment Never Greater.

ARE ATTENDED BY MILLIONS

Names of Men Now Touring Country Refutation of Assertion That No Great Lecturers Are Found On Platform Today—Detective Burns, Senators Kenyon and Dixon and Former Governor Hanly in Front Rank.

Frequently it is heard that the Lyceum is dying out; that the increase of newspapers, magazines, books and periodicals and the fact that nearly everybody is reading them has destroyed the demand for lectures; that the spoken word has been supplanted by the written word. Some people believe this to be true, but quite the contrary is the case. It is authoritatively stated by Ralph Parlette, editor of the Lyceum Magazine, and Louis J. Alber, its former editor, verifies the statement, that there are in round numbers 15,000 Lyceum courses in the United States and Canada, and during the summer months fully 1,500 Chautauques. The audiences attending these Lyceum courses and Chautauques aggregate, estimated very conservatively, 40,000,000 people—not that many different people for each attend on an average of five times in winter and eight times in summer. The written word can never quite take the place of the spoken word.

Great Men On Platform.

Again it is sometimes said that no such great men are to be found upon the platform now as were found there in "the palmy days"—meaning the days of Beecher, Gough and Wendell Phillips. Let us see. In a recent issue of the Lyceum Magazine, the Coit Lyceum Bureau of Cleveland, Ohio, one of the leading bureaus of America, announces as part of their staff of speakers, "Twelve Master Lecturers," and these twelve are but a small portion of their great list. The twelve are: Detective William J. Burns, often called the world's greatest detective, who happens to be a most charming and forceful speaker and who commands a larger fee than Bryan; Senator Robert Marion LaFollette, by many "seen observers" said to be the ablest man in public life today, and a most remarkable orator; Senator Joseph M. Dixon, Roosevelt's campaign manager and an orator of great ability; Ex-Governor J. Frank Hanly of Indiana, rated as one of the greatest orators America has ever heard; Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, successor to Henry Ward Beecher in the Plymouth pulpit and almost his equal as a preacher and lecturer; Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson, naval hero, congressman, and a most forceful speaker, who has more than held his own in a series of brilliant joint debates on the disarmament of the nations, Governor Hanly taking the affirmative; Dr. Hugh Black, once Scotland's greatest preacher, now an American citizen and a world famous author and lecturer; Mark Sullivan, editor of the militant Collier's Weekly, and a forceful speaker; Hon. Victor Murdock, the Kansas insurgent and leader of the Progressives in the national house; Dr. Russell H. Conwell, for fifty years on the platform, having earned over a million dollars with his one lecture, "Acres of Diamonds," which is a Lyceum classic; William Gillette, America's greatest living actor, who has retired from the stage and will devote some time to the Lyceum in a lecture he calls "Drama—And Some Other Things;" and Senator William S. Kenyon, former judge and government prosecutor, who is one of the younger leaders in the United States senate.

Surely an imposing list, and to it could be added other names, as well known, like Henry J. Allen, John Kendrick Bangs, Hon. Herbert S. Bigelow, who will debate with Governor Hanly on the Federal Constitution; Bishops Frank M. Bristol and William M. Bell, Dr. Harris R. Cooley, Senator Luke Lea, Robert Parker Miles, Ralph Parlette, Senator Miles Polinder, Jacob A. Rills, Dr. George R. Stuart, Albert Edward Wiggam, Hon. Lincoln Wirt, Benjamin Chapin, Leland T. Powers, Elias Day, Ross Crane, Margaret Stahl, Sidney Landon and Edwin Whitney. More noted men are now on the platform than during any other time, which accounts, in large degree, for its rapid spread, its popularity and its permanency. It is a matter for local pride that our town supports the Lyceum.

The Equator in Africa.

At the equator in Africa there are only two seasons—the wet and the dry. The former lasts eight months. During the minus the natives live in houses made principally of bamboo and roofed with leaves, but as soon as the rains stop they set out for the forests and jungles.

CARNEGIE IS A TOTAL ABSTAINER FROM LIQUOR.

Words of Warning to Young Men From Ironmaster.

Andrew Carnegie, LL. D., lord rector of St. Andrew's university and, as he is referred to in the land of his birth, "the laird of Skibo," is a total abstainer from the use of alcoholic beverages. He is such an ardent advocate of total abstinence that he pays 10 per cent more than the agreed wages to each employee on his Skibo estate who does not drink during the year. In an address to young men recently Mr. Carnegie said:

"The first and most seductive path and the destroyer of most young men is the drinking of liquor. I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the most dangerous path and the most ruinous. It is the habit of drinking liquor that has ruined more men than any other temptation and reform—may brace up and if not recovered lost ground at least remains in the race and secure and maintain a respectable position. But from the insane thirst for liquor escape is almost impossible. I have known but few exceptions to this rule.

"Drinking is a dangerous habit very likely to cause grievous results, all agree; that it can cause no beneficial results all agree. It is therefore, the part of wisdom to abstain from the habit that might work evil and can do no good. That no ill effects are visible from indulgence during the vigorous period of youth renders the danger of serious consequences in after life still greater than if the ill effects were visible from the beginning.

"Viewing you as young steady training for the race of life, I know of no one habit so likely to defeat you in the contest as the drinking of alcoholic liquors. That taken in excess they destroy the character of men and render them useless members of society you all know. The line between excess and sufficiency is so narrow that it is very seldom the drinker knows and observes it. Better be on the safe side. Why run into danger? As no possible good can result from indulgence, no risk should be incurred.

"In the stern game of life you have to play you can afford to throw no advantages away. I put the case to you simply as a matter of policy. There is one habit—and that the greatest danger in front of you—against which you can protect yourselves completely in the campaign of life. It is good sense for you to do so.

"Drunkenness is the great rock ahead in the career of every young man. It is far more important you insure yourselves against it than against death. A drink policy is worth ten life policies in this case. Abstain and evade the danger."

BOY SCOUTS AND BRYAN.

They Inform the Secretary's Total Abstinence Principles.

A company of boy scouts recently called on Secretary of State Bryan to present an engrossed copy of the following resolutions:

Having just celebrated Mother's day, it is fitting and proper that we should unite under our mother's banner in the war against the demon of strong drink; therefore be it

Resolved, That we, troop 16 of the Ingram Memorial Congregational church of Washington, D. C., do hereby inform the action of our secretary of state in his brave stand against King Alcohol and his hosts.

The secretary was highly pleased with the testimonial and thanked the boy scouts for the resolution. He said in part: "I appreciate the compliment which you pay me in informing what I have done in regard to serving liquor at the table. If since I have grown to manhood I had ever felt tempted to begin the drinking of liquor I would have been restrained by the feeling that my act might injuriously affect some who look to me for an example, and I have felt that as especially in public life, for as one becomes better known his example has more far-reaching influence. I shall feel that I have not lived entirely in vain if by abstaining from the use of intoxicating liquors as beverages I have given strength to any one to help him resist temptation."

The Skin on Boiled Milk.

What causes the formation of the skin on the surface of boiled milk and of hot cocoas that is made with bottled milk? Dr. Porcher of Lyons, France, says that it is the result of the disintegrating of the lime caseinate in the milk. Heat separates the lime and the casein, and the lime combines with carbonic acid from the air to form a thin film of carbonate of lime. This film supports the undissolved casein in the milk as well as some coagulated albumen and fat.

THE CLEARFIELD PROGRESS

Published Every Day, Except Sun day by the

PROGRESSIVE PUBLISHING CO.
CLEARFIELD, PA.

Official organ of the Washington Party of Clearfield county.

OFFICERS:

Robert H. Sommersville, President.
James H. Minda, Vice President.
E. W. Hess, Treasurer.
Harry A. Reed, Sec. and Gen. Mgr
John R. Bixler, Editor.

DIRECTORS:

James H. Minda,
Robert H. Sommersville,
A. S. Mouthrop,
A. B. Mosser,
John W. Barratt,
E. W. Hess,
Harry A. Reed.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:

One Year . . . . . $3.00
Six Months . . . . . 1.50
One Month . . . . . 25
Three Months . . . . . 75
Postage Free in United States.

Entered at the Post Office at Clearfield, Pa., as mail matter of the Second class.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 15.

COMING EVENTS.

Anti-Saloon League convention Clearfield district, Clearfield, Oct. 7.
Panzanawany fair, Sept. 16, 17, 18, 19.
DuBois fair, Sept. 30, Oct. 1, 2, 3.

Good evening! For whom are you going to vote for judge tomorrow?

NON-PARTISAN JUDICIARY.

For the first time in the history of Pennsylvania the voters will have an opportunity tomorrow to record their endorsement of a non-partisan judiciary. Under the law enacted by the legislature at its recent session, the candidates for judge in this county and other counties of the state will have their names printed on a non-partisan ballot. That is, the names of the candidates will appear upon the ballot without any party designation, and voters will mark upon the list the name of the candidate they favor.

The purpose of this law was to enable voters to choose as judicial candidates men who would go before the people upon their merits. The courts should not be tainted with politics, for a judge should administer the law with regard only to justice and impartiality. A political judge is likely to be prejudiced, be he otherwise honest as may be.

In the contest just closing there is no other candidate who has made a more favorable impression upon the voters than has Oscar Mitchell. Mr. Mitchell has appealed to all classes of voters in a straightforward manner, and no one has been deceived as to the stand he has taken on the issues of the campaign. He regards the liquor license question as the paramount issue before the people, and has won the regard of the voters of all political parties by his unswerving allegiance to the cause of temperance. His stand on wholesale-retail liquor license question is unequivocal and cannot be misunderstood.

There is a strong temperance sentiment among the people of Clearfield county, and as Oscar Mitchell is the only candidate for judge who makes a plain, satisfactory statement as to his position on this issue, the friends of temperance and the advocates of law and order find in Mr. Mitchell a candidate not only worthy of their support, but one who is entitled to the nomination, because of his loyalty to the cause of good government. Voters who endorse the campaign against the liquor traffic can give their votes to Oscar Mitchell with full reliance that, if elected, he will do all in his power to bring county as are the hope and desire of the friends of temperance and the foes of intemperance.

THE TARIFF AND BEEF

While most Americans are opposed to reductions in the tariff rates and discuss the dangers of free trade, they do not pay as much heed as they should to the fact that the tariff neither makes nor breaks monopolies. Regardless of the tariff monopolies exist and will exist until such time as the people rise in their might and refuse to buy monopoly-controlled products.

Just at this time the beef trust comes in for a share of the condemnation which is visited upon monopolies. The beef trust control the production and price of meat and it is safe to say that the beef trust is not in business for the fun of it. It matters not to the beef trust whether cattle are numerous or scarce, it reaps its harvest from the people, and the people are helpless to prevent the robbery.

In some cities retail butchers are combining to fight the beef trust, being ashamed to look their customers in the face when selling them the prices of meat. In larger cities butchers can build cooperative plants and kill and pack meats, but in the smaller towns this method of fighting the beef trust would be ineffectual. If, however, the people in the smaller towns were to agree among themselves to abstain from the use of meat for a certain period they would eventually force the beef trust to lower its prices.

On Saturday there appeared the Advocate, an Afro-American newspaper, the first of its kind to be published in Clearfield county. The paper is issued in the interests of the negro race of the county. H. J. Williams is its editor, and the first number is a very creditable publication.

Let me make Chautauqua speeches and I care not who runs the office of secretary of state, is probably what Bryan thinks.

There are other places than in congress where the currency problem is being discussed.

No autoist would like to be regarded as a criminal, but in running his machine in a reckless manner the mad motorist is nothing less than a criminal.

"Hoc de Kaiser:" The German emperor has had himself tied to the water wagon.

This is the time of year, when the cold waves admonish us that cold weather is coming and young men are thinking of those overcoats in stock, that bachelor clubs sworn to celibacy are being organized.

Vote as you think tomorrow.

Dignity of Senatorial Visiting.

There is something impressive in the way one senator generally calls on another in the office building at Washington. A representative dignity precludes the old time free and easy method of "dropping in to see Tom" or Jim or Jack—kicking in the door and sitting down on the table or desk and "smoking up" without invitation. Today there is a sedate step, measured and regular, as the senator sets out to call, with a manner and bearing that at once suggest senatorial dignity and courtesy. Such a bearing and dignity must perforce take the place of the impressive senatorial toga of the old days and a visiting dramatist (a lady, to be sure) has suggested that it would be most fascinating to come to the senate on some holiday and find the distinguished gentlemen who now wear tweed and business suits attired in the Caesarian toga and mantle—a mise en scene that would leave Shakespeare's Julius Caesar at its best presentation hopelessly in the background.—Joe Mitchell Chapple in National Magazine.

Dreamland.

Most people sleep for about eight hours out of the daily twenty-four. That means they sleep one-third of each day, or one-third of their entire lives. And according to many scientists, the whole time we are asleep we dream. We do not remember most of these dreams. Indeed, we remember only the very last one before we wake or some dream that is so vivid it wakes us. In other words, for one-third of our total lives we are dwelling in dreamland. And dreamland is a country of more utter absurdities, more grisly horrors, more fears, hopes, surprises and novelties than any land described by the most imaginative author. It is a land full of mystery, a land that science has for sixty centuries sought in vain to explore. It lies amid wholly unexplored regions of the human brain, regions which its possessor never saw.—New York World.

Oyster Liquid.

Only one oyster opener in fifty seems to know that the best thing by far about an oyster is the liquid in its shell. Watch the other forty-nine and you will see them wantonly wasting this precious, fragrant liquid, and in many cases they will serve the oyster on the flat shell, so that you get no juice at all. Always ask for them on the shell, and don't be afraid after you have transferred the morsel to your mouth to drink the liquid from the shell. It may not look elegant, but elegance be hanged!—Henry T. Fink's "Food and Flavor."

Job Not in It.

WILLIE—Pa, why do people talk about the pittance of Job? Henpeck—Because they don't know your father, my son Baltimore Sun.

WANTED—Position by experienced stenographer. Address W. this office.

Wanted.

Girls wanted at the Clearfield Laundry at once. 12 Sept. 2-w.

FRECKLES
Coming

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

JUDGE 46th JUDICIAL DISTRICT.

The Clearfield Progress is authorized to announce the name of OSCAR MITCHELL, of Clearfield, as a candidate for Judge of the 46th Judicial District of Pennsylvania (Clearfield county), at the Judicial Non-Partisan Primary election to be held Tuesday September 16th, 1913.

The Clearfield Progress is authorized to announce the name of ALLISON O. SMITH as a candidate for the office of President Judge of the 46th Judicial District of Pennsylvania (Clearfield county), at the Judicial Non-Partisan Primary election to be held Tuesday, September 16th 1913.

W. C. MILLER, of Clearfield, Pa announces himself as a candidate for Judge of Clearfield County. Primary election, Tuesday, September 16, 1913 Your vote and influence respectfully solicited.

The Clearfield Progress is authorized to announce the name of SINGLETON BELL, of Clearfield, as a candidate for Judge of the 46th Judicial District of Pennsylvania (Clearfield county), at the Judicial Non-Partisan Primary election to be held Tuesday September 16th, 1913.

The Clearfield Progress is authorized to announce the name of JAMES H. KELLER as a candidate for the office of President Judge of the 46th Judicial District of Pennsylvania (Clearfield county), at the Judicial Non-Partisan Primary election to be held Tuesday, September 16th 1913.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

The Clearfield Progress is authorized to announce the name of E. G. BOOSE, of DuBois Borough, as a candidate for District Attorney, subject to the rules of the Washington Party.

The Progress is authorized to announce the name of JOHN M. UREY of Clearfield borough, as a candidate for District Attorney, subject to the action of the Republican voters of Clearfield county at the Primary Election, Tuesday, September 16 1913 Postoffice address, Clearfield, Pa

The Clearfield Progress is authorized to announce the name of WALTER WELSH for the office of District Attorney, subject to the rules governing the Democratic Party Primary election, Tuesday September 16

The Clearfield Progress is authorized to announce the name of LEWIS C. BOYER, of DuBois, as a candidate for the office of District Attorney, subject to the rules governing the Democratic Party. Primary election Tuesday, September 16.

FOR SHERIFF.

The Clearfield Progress is authorized to announce the name of REUBEN M. KNARR, of Clearfield as a candidate for Sheriff, subject to the rules of the Washington (Progressive) party.

The Progress is authorized to announce the name of CHARLES W. FREY, of DuBois, as a candidate for sheriff of Clearfield county, subject to the rules governing the Washington (Progressive) party.

The Clearfield Progress is authorized to announce the name of IRA C. McCLOSKEY, of Clearfield as a candidate for Sheriff, subject to the rules governing the Democratic Party. Primary election, Tuesday September 16

FOR SUPERVISOR

The Clearfield Progress is authorized to announce the name of JOHN SCHICKLING, for Road Supervisor, of Lawrence Township. Primary election Tuesday, September 16.

The Clearfield Progress is authorized to announce the name of JOHN RICHARDS, of the Glen Richey precinct, Lawrence township, as a candidate for supervisor, for the four year term, subject to the rules of the Republican party.

JURY COMMISSIONER.

The Clearfield Progress is authorized to announce the name of RICHARD J. DUCKETT as a candidate for Jury Commissioner, on the Democratic ticket.

NOTICE.

Under family agreement, which has been recorded in Clearfield County, I am authorized to settle the estate of Smith V. Wilson, deceased, and to collect all monies due said estate. All persons having claims against, or knowing themselves to be in debt to the said estate will present said claims at once for settlement, and pay said debts to the above named estate at my residence at 118 South Second Street, Clearfield, Pa.

MRS. SMITH V. WILSON.
Sept. 9 2-w.

How to Use Discarded Paper.

The old paper that comes over butter can be used for papering cake tins, while that which comes from the inside of cracker boxes is good for a dozen different things—for instance, cheese may be kept moist by wrapping in this paper, also sandwiches.

If the cake is getting brown too quickly covering with waxed paper will check it.

Sheets of wrapping paper will save labor very often. One can use it to prepare chickens on for the oven, roll crackers, pare apples or slice bread, when the paper can be rolled up and dropped into the garbage pail.

Newspapers laid upon the floor before an open grate when taking out the ashes will save the carpet considerably, and one lighted when shaking down a grate will carry the dust up the chimney.

These little conveniences do not cost a cent, but once they are put in their value is sure to be appreciated.

How to Sharpen a Lawn Mower.

A great many women mow their own lawns, and when the mower is sharp it is a delight, but if the mower is dull it becomes a laborious task. Here is a way to sharpen a dull mower: Get some real fine emery powder and mix it up with a thick oil, such as linseed oil, lard oil or crude oil. The latter is the cheapest and best for this purpose. Apply the mixture to the edge of the knives with a paint brush and turn the mower just as you would while cutting grass. In a very few minutes you will have a cutting edge that will last a long time.

Now try this and you can make lots of pin money sharpening mowers for your friends and neighbors.

How to Cure Baldness.

If you are growing bald and want to encourage your hair to remain with you turn to play the violin, cello or double bass, or even the piano will do. M. de Parville, a French scientist, has been collecting statistics of musicians, and he finds that playing stringed instruments has a tonic effect on the hair. This may explain why violinists and pianists so often have long manes. The vibration of the strings seems to be just the sort of massage that the hair thrives on. On the other hand woe to your locks if you play a wind instrument. The vibration for such instruments seems to be too much for the poor hairs, and they give up and let go. So accepted is this effect now that the French doctors call it "brass band baldness."

FRECKLES
Coming

FORMER GOVERNOR R. B. GLENN'S

REASON FOR TOTAL ABSTINENCE

In my younger days I used to use a little wine for my stomach's sake, but I can say to you now that not one drop shall ever pass my lips. I can give you the reason for the faith that is in me. I have seen strong and brave and good men laid low by this terrible demon. The names of seven of my young friends from the days of youth come flitting before my memory—men some of them whose shoes I was unworthy to unlace. Where are these men today? Three of them are in their graves, two are in insane asylums, two are a disgrace to their state—all laid low by this demon. I have seen young men go out as men of promise only to be ruined by this monster. I have seen young women go out with elasticity in their steps, roses upon their cheeks and sweet smiles upon their lips. Later I have seen these same women watching and listening and praying, yet dreading to hear the return of a husband's footsteps, not knowing whether he would come drunk or sober. I have seen the hat taken off the head, I have seen the clothes taken off the back, I have seen the shoes taken off the feet of little boys and girls of my state.—Ex-Governor Robert B. Glenn of North Carolina.

Fall Shoes

are arriving, a well selected stock for all the family. Our heavy and light weight Rubbers for Men, Ladies and Children now in.

Bartlett Pears due Wednesday or Thursday. Pears promised for Monday the 15th. Send us your orders. Prices right in bushel baskets.

We have a complete line of E-Z & Mason's Jars, Tin Cans, Jar Caps, Jar Rubbers, Sealing Wax, Wax Strings, Paro Wax, Crocks and Cooking Utensils.

Red Peppers
Mangoes
Bananas

Pine Apples
White Pkg. On.
Spanish Onions

Turnips
Lopes
Sweet Potatoes

ROSS & WOODS

The Typewriter Used by

"Big Business"

—Yours for 17 Cents a Day!

The Oliver Typewriter No. 5--the famous Printype Model used by the world's greatest firms and corporations--is offered to anyone, anywhere, for 17 Cents a Day. The same model which the purchasing agents of "Big Business" buy by the HUNDRED, now sold to the public for PENNIES.

Sold at the regular $100 price, but ON TERMS SO EASY that each machine quickly pays for itself. The price includes all the latest improvements, the special time-saving devices and the beautiful new Printype obtainable only on this model.

A Profit-Sharing Agency Plan

We now have in operation in the United States and Canada more than 15,000 Oliver Local Agencies. These agents have received hundreds of thousands of dollars in profits on sales of Oliver Typewriters.

There are still hundreds of places where no agencies are established. Applicants for Oliver Local Agencies must be earnest workers. They need not have had previous experience.

We enroll them at once in The Oliver School of Practical Salesmanship and teach them selling—all as part of the free training given Oliver Agents.

When they have proved their worth, we promote them to the direct service, in which they may rise to the highest positions in the Company.

One of our general officials began his Oliver career as a Local Agent at Waco, Texas.

Printype
OLIVER
Typewriter

Standard Visible Writer

The Oliver is the best seller because it is the best typewriter. It has many exclusive features. It is the only typewriter made in typewriter construction.

We GUARANTEE Printype to be exclusively used on Oliver Typewriters.

Oliver Agents sell Printype Oliver in thousands. The demand is voluntary and steady.

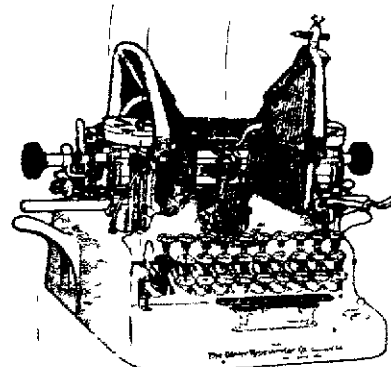

Oliver Agents are permitted to sell our 17-cents-a-day Plan, which puts the Oliver in everyone's reach. Agents may even secure their own sample outfits on the 17-Cents-a-day Plan and let their agency earnings help to carry the deal.

Oliver agents are protected in exclusive selling rights in the territory given them. They own the local typewriter business.

When you apply, be sure to give some details about the typewriter sales possibilities of your town, village or city.

And Don't Delay

We like and reward promptness. Full details of Agency Proposition, a specimen of Printype, the 17-Cents-a-Day Plan and other interesting information will be sent immediately on receipt of your application.

The Oliver Typewriter Company

800 Penn Ave., Pittsburg, Pa.

HARRY A. REED Special Oliver Representative for Clearfield and Curwensville.

THE CLEARFIELD PROGRESS

Volume VIII

Clearfield, Pennsylvania, Monday, September 15, 1913

Number 45

OSCAR MITCHELL SURE WINNER

His Nomination is Now Declared
a Certainty

HE HAS MADE LARGE GAINS

Temperance Rallies Throughout the County Have Increased His Chance as People Understand That He is the Only Temperance Candidate in the Field—Non-partisan Voting.

Political prospects may change overnight, and therefore prognostications of last week may be upset between Saturday and Monday. There has undoubtedly been a change of sentiment among certain classes of voters since last Friday, and that change has been in favor of Oscar Mitchell's candidacy, whose nomination is freely predicted.

This change is indicated by the admissions of workers for the other candidates that Mr. Mitchell, always a strong candidate, has made heavy gains in the country districts in the past week.

Temperance Rallies.

That temperance rallies last week had an important bearing upon the situation is acknowledged by friends of all candidates, and these rallies have increased if not made certain the chances of nomination of Oscar Mitchell. About thirty of these rallies were held last week, and at each of them large numbers of people were present and after listening to speeches expressed their intention of supporting Mr. Mitchell and helping in every possible way to bring about his nomination and election.

The Only Temperance Candidate. Hundreds of voters were aware until they attended the rallies that there was a straight out temperance candidate for judge in the field, and that that candidate is Oscar Mitchell. When the speakers at the meetings made it plain that Mr. Mitchell is the only candidate who is pledged for a temperance campaign it was an easy matter to secure the promise of hundreds of citizens to vote for and aid in securing the nomination of Oscar Mitchell.

The sentiment throughout the county districts, therefore has undergone a big change in the past few days, and that change is in favor of Mr. Mitchell.

All Can Vote For Judge.

There are many voters who are of the opinion that if they vote for Oscar Mitchell for judge they will bind themselves to vote for other candidates than those on their own party ballots. A Democrat or a Republican can vote for Oscar Mitchell on the non-partisan ballot and then vote for the candidates on the Democratic or Republican ballot. The judicial ballot is separate from party ballot, and the voter who asks for a non-partisan judicial ballot need not tell the election officers what his political faith is. He simply votes for the candidates for judge as a citizen, not as a Democrat or as a Republican.

There are Two Ballots.

The voters should bear these facts in his mind: There are two separate ballots. The voter asks for a non-partisan judicial ballot, and having received it he places an X opposite the name Oscar Mitchell. This is all that is required of him. By voting for Mitchell the voter does not lose his right to vote for either the Democratic or Republican ballot containing names of his party's candidates for county, borough or township office.

The non-partisan ballot indicates that there is no politics connected with the nomination of judge and voters of all political faith may vote for any candidate on the judicial ballot without surrendering their right to vote for the candidates on their respective party ballots.

Entertained Little Friends.

The Misses Jane and Julia Wallace entertained about 60 of their little friends Saturday afternoon at their home on North Pine street. The little tots had a delightful time, playing all kinds of games. Refreshments were served.

First Trap Shoot.

On Saturday the Clearfield Gun club held its first match at the grove in Pike's bottom, the scores being somewhat erratic, but giving promise of much better shooting in the future. The next shoot will be held Friday afternoon, September 19.

OSCAR MITCHELL

Only Real Temperance Candidate for County Judge.

A great many people are under the impression that there is more than one candidate for President Judge in the 16th judicial district favorable to temperance. This is a wrong impression. Some of the candidates are trying to carry the burden on both shoulders, but are not succeeding very admirably. It is impossible to have the support of the liquor element of the county and be a temperance man, and it is said that twelve thousand dollars has been collected by the liquor interests for a candidate who is posing as a temperance man.

The Temperance Workers League of Clearfield county investigated this question before selecting a candidate to support this year, and this League is composed of men, who have been fighting the liquor business for years and are conscientious, christian characters, who have no political axe to grind. After going over the answers to nine questions submitted to the candidates for President Judge very carefully they have chosen Oscar Mitchell to carry the temperance banner and it is well to remember that if the temperance people unite on one candidate they can win the coming election. Do not be deceived by the enemy who is trying to convince you there is another candidate besides Oscar Mitchell who is favorable to temperance.—Mahaffey Times.

GOLDEN BEES.

Secured Considerable Money For Children's Ward at Hospital.

The young girls who comprise the Golden Bees club on Saturday made a house to house canvass, selling flowers for the benefit of the children's ward at the Clearfield hospital. The girls gathered in $32.50 by this means.

The club returns thanks to Mrs. Richard Gilbert, of the West Side, who furnished the girls with most of the flowers offered for sale.

No Fair Held Here.

A Reader, Madras.—There is no fair held in Clearfield. A fair is held at DuBois, and if you want any information regarding the same address Secretary Fair Association, DuBois.—Editor the Progress.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Joe Letic and Mary Twikhan, both of Helvetia.

Frank Gnorek and Catherine Frankovic, both of Monaca, Pa.

Lucien F. Triponey, of Karthaus, and Ruth A. Lutzler, of Surveyor.

Frank B. Gallaher, of New Washington, and Golden Westover of Chest township.

Mrs. David C. Mack Dead.

Mrs. David C. Mack, mother of Edgar M. Mack, contracting engineer of Mahaffey, died at her home in Indiana, Pa., Friday.

How to Be an Inventor.

A retired professor of mechanical engineering was called upon to deliver a few lectures on invention to the senior engineering classes. His first injunction was that when one attempts to devise a machine to do a certain thing, one must consider directly the fundamental operations to be performed and must wipe from the mind all existing methods and all preconceived notions. He stated that one so called inventor attempted in the days of the scythe to invent a mowing machine. Being familiar only with the scythe, he designed a horse drawn machine which would swing a scythe. He simply replaced the man by a mechanism. It is needless to say that his invention did not survive. The problem of efficiently cutting hay and grain was not successfully solved until it was attacked by a man with an open mind, and he devised the knife of the modern mowing machine or reaper.—American Machinist.

The Perfect Cup of Coffee.

Fill a kettle with fresh cold water that has run for a few moments and put it to boil. Place over an open china teapot kept just for coffee (as metal is deleterious) a clean wet old linen napkin or a new square of unbleached muslin, letting it sag toward the center. Put into the depression four heaping tablespoonsful (for four cups of coffee) of finely pulverized Java and Mocha or any preferred brand of coffee. When the water in the kettle is at the galloping point pour it through the coffee slowly until four cupfuls have filtered through. Just the contents of the kettle can go in if measured before boiling, allowing a little for waste. Cover and take at once to table. Wash the cloth immediately after breakfast and keep in a jar of cold water, never permitting it to get dry, and freshening the water every day.—New York Times.

SHOT TO DEATH BY HIS BROTHER

Fatal Shooting Accident in Boggs Township Saturday

BOYS PLAY WITH A SHOT GUN

One Lad Believing That the Weapon Was Unloaded, Playfully Points It at His Brother and Pulls the Trigger—Whole Face Blown Away.

Saturday afternoon at about 3 o'clock a fatal shooting accident occurred at the home of Wm. Albright in Boggs township. From what can be learned of the affair the young sons of William Albright, in the absence of the other members of the family, secured a shot gun and going to a neighboring house borrowed several cartridges. Loading the gun the boys went to the barn and played with it for a while.

Pulled The Trigger.

The older boy finally pointed the weapon at the younger, the latter being about 13 years old, and playfully said:

"Look out, I'm going to shoot."

He pulled the trigger and his brother fell to the ground with his whole face shot away, death being instant. News of the accident spread and Dr. Buzzard, of Wallacetown, was called and proceeded to Albright's home but his services were not required, as the lad had been instantly killed. Word was sent to W. A. Mackery, in Clearfield, and he directed Dr. Polun, the coroner to hold an inquest.

Didn't Know It Was Loaded.

The boy who did the shooting says he thought that all of the cartridges had been removed from the gun. He feels very badly over the accident.

Dr. Buzzard says the wound in the boy's head was a frightful one, the hole through which the shot passed being large enough to permit of the entrance of his hand.

The Albright family is a large one there being 18 of the children living, and the sympathy of the community goes out to the parents in their affliction.

GAVE LUNCHEON

Miss Marian Bigler Entertains in Honor of Bride-to-Be.

Miss Marian Bigler entertained with a luncheon Saturday afternoon, at her home on second street, in honor of Miss Alice Bigler, whose marriage to John Provost, of Pittsburgh, will take place soon.

The house was beautifully decorated with ferns and white asters, large bells of flowers being suspended in the doorways, in which were concealed the presents which were showered upon Miss Alice as she entered.

About 50 guests were present among whom were several from Curwensville.

AGED LADY INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Serious Mishap Witnessed by Clearfield People

Sunday afternoon a party of Altoona autoists, consisting of Superintendent Russell, of Gable's store, his aged mother and other persons were thrown from their auto near Tyrone. Mrs. Russell, who is about 80 years old, being seriously hurt, Mr. Russell severely injured and a young lady having her hand cut open.

The accident was witnessed by a number of Clearfielders, among them William H. Patterson and family. Mr. Patterson says he believes the accident was caused by the bursting of a rear tire when Mr. Russell sought to avoid a motor car going in the opposite direction, the burst causing the machine to skid, throwing the occupants into a field by the side of the road. Mr. Patterson and his son helped to carry the aged woman into a nearby house and state that she appeared badly hurt.

If you have anything to advertise, or an advertisement in this paper, and watch the results.

PHILIPSBURG WAKES UP

Wants to Play a Series of Games With Clearfield Monarchs.

On Saturday the Clearfield Monarchs defeated the strong P. R. R. Y. M. C. A. team of Altoona in a fast game by a score of 5 to 1.

St. Clair pitched good ball for the Monarchs and was well backed up by the team. "Red" Lester has returned to the team and his playing was largely responsible for the victory on Saturday.

Phillipsburg, of the C. C. league, has challenged the Monarchs for a series of five games for $200, and if the local fans will support the Monarchs the games will be played.

PARK AVENUE FIRE

Slight Damage Done to House of Frank Cooper Today.

An alarm of fire this morning called out the department, but before the engine reached the scene it was stated that the fire had been extinguished.

The fire was at the home of Frank Cooper, on Park avenue, where the valley in the roof was ablaze. The damage was slight.

It is thought by Mr. Cooper that sparks from the kitchen stove when fire was started in the stove this morning set the roof afire and that the blaze had been smoldering since 6 o'clock, when the fire was built.

Dr. Swartz Preached.

Rev. Dr. M. E. Swartz, of York, Pa., preached in Trinity Methodist church Sunday. Dr. Swartz was formerly pastor of the Methodist church here.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

Rache Phillips to Mark Maker, land in Ocedo, $350.

Nora Mille to David McGee, land in Gulick township, $75.

William Storey to David McGee, land in Gulick twp., $450.

David Dillen, attorney in fact, to Dr. C. B. Elliot, land in Gulick twp. $1.

Sarah Shlider to Dr. C. B. Elliot, land in Gulick twp. $1.

One Year Ago.

One year ago Sunday, Brewer Roemer was shot and killed by John Keel, now in jail waiting to learn whether he will be hanged or have his sentence commuted to imprisonment for life.

A FINE RECORD

Judge Smith the Right Man in the Right Place.

Judge Allison O. Smith has made such a fine record on the bench that his opponents are driven to their wits' ends to find material with which to combat him. They freely admit that public expenditures have been held down so that the county debt is practically wiped out. They admit that he handled the liquor question and the license problems as well as any judge in Pennsylvania. They admit that his decisions have been such as to commend the highest respect. They admit that his fearless interpretation of the laws has resulted in the re-organization of the coal business in the entire Clearfield district, so that the smaller operator is on terms of absolute equality with the "big fellows." They admit that his administration has been marked by honesty, uprightness, ability and impartiality.

Being absolutely without anything like a real argument, Judge Smith's opponents, his rivals who would fill his place and their supporters, have reached the pass where all they say is that the Judgeship ought to be handed around, that one term is enough, that the Judgeship ought to be made a political playground. Their whole stock in trade is the one-term only cry. Such a position is contrary to reason, logic and common wisdom. The experience gained by ten years' able and satisfactory judicial service and the broadening influences of a term on the bench are of incalculable benefit to the electors of this county.

Judge Smith is recognized throughout Pennsylvania as a jurist of the first rank, and his ten years of service are an assurance to every voter that Allison O. Smith is the right man in the right place. The "one-term only" hurrah is the shout of fighters driven to despair, the last resort of campaigners barren of arguments, and a platform without any foundation in reason to support it. Like all platforms without support it is bound to fall with a crash, to the great discomfiture of those who have clambered upon it. — Political Advertisement.

LYCEUM GROWS IN POPULARITY

Demand for High-Class Entertainment Never Greater.

ARE ATTENDED BY MILLIONS

Names of Men Now Touring Country Refutation of Assertion That No Great Lecturers Are Found On Platform Today—Detective Burns, Senators Kenyon and Dixon and Former Governor Hanly in Front Rank.

Frequently it is heard that the Lyceum is dying out; that the increase of newspapers, magazines, books and periodicals and the fact that nearly everybody is reading them has destroyed the demand for lectures; that the spoken word has been supplanted by the written word. Some people believe this to be true, but quite the contrary is the case. It is authoritatively stated by Ralph Parlette, editor of the Lyceum Magazine, and Louis J. Alber, its former editor, verifies the statement, that there are in round numbers 15,000 Lyceum courses in the United States and Canada, and during the summer months fully 1,500 Chautauquas. The audiences attending these Lyceum courses and Chautauquas aggregate, estimated very conservatively, 40,000,000 people—not that many different people for each attend on an average of five times in winter and eight times in summer. The written word can never quite take the place of the spoken word.

Great Men On Platform.

Again it is sometimes said that no such great men are to be found upon the platform now as were found there in "the palmy days"—meaning the days of Beecher, Gough and Wendell Phillips. Let us see. In a recent issue of the Lyceum Magazine, the Coit Lyceum Bureau of Cleveland, Ohio, one of the leading bureaus of America, announces as part of their staff of speakers, "Twelve Master Lecturers" and these twelve are but a small portion of their great list. The twelve are: Detective William J. Burns, often called the world's greatest detective, who happens to be a most charming and forceful speaker and who commands a larger fee than Bryan; Senator Robert Marion LaFollette, by many "seen observers" said to be the ablest man in public life today, and a most remarkable orator; Senator Joseph M. Dixon, Roosevelt's campaign manager and an orator of great ability; Ex-Governor J. Frank Hanly of Indiana, rated as one of the greatest orators America has ever heard; Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, successor to Henry Ward Beecher in the Plymouth pulpit and almost his equal as a preacher and lecturer; Captain Richmond Pearson Hobson, naval hero, congressman, and a most forceful speaker, who has more than held his own in a series of brilliant joint debates on the disarmament of the nations, Governor Hanly taking the affirmative; Dr. Hugh Black, once Scotland's greatest preacher, now an American citizen and a world famous author and lecturer; Mark Sullivan, editor of the militant Collier's Weekly, and a forceful speaker; Hon. Victor Murdock, the Kansas insurgent and leader of the Progressives in the national house; Dr. Russell H. Conwell, for fifty years on the platform, having earned over a million dollars with his one lecture, "Acres of Diamonds," which is a Lyceum classic; William Gillette, America's greatest living actor, who has retired from the stage and will devote some time to the Lyceum in a lecture he calls "Drama—And Some Other Things;" and Senator William S. Kenyon, former judge and government prosecutor, who is one of the younger leaders in the United States senate.

Surely an imposing list, and to it could be added other names, as well known, like Henry J. Allen, John Kendrick Bangs, Hon. Herbert S. Bigelow, who will debate with Governor Hanly on the Federal Constitution; Bishops Frank M. Bristol and William M. Bell, Dr. Harris R. Cooley, Senator Luke Lea, Robert Parker Miles, Ralph Parlette, Senator Miles Polinder, Jacob A. Rills, Dr. George R. Stuart, Albert Edward Wiggam, Hon. Lincoln P. Wirt, Benjamin Chapin, Leland T. Powers, Elias Day, Ross Crane, Margaret Stahl, Sidney Landon and Edwin Whitney. More noted men are now on the platform than during any other time, which accounts, in large degree, for its rapid spread, its popularity and its permanency. It is a matter for local pride that our town supports the Lyceum.

The Equator In Africa.

At the equator in Africa there are only two seasons—the wet and the dry. The former lasts eight months. During the minus the natives live in houses made principally of bamboo and roofed with leaves, but as soon as the rains stop they set out for the forests and jungles.

CARNEGIE IS A TOTAL ABSTAINER FROM LIQUOR.

Words of Warning to Young Men From Ironmaster.

Andrew Carnegie, LL. D., lord rector of St. Andrew's university and, as he is referred to in the land of his birth, "the laird of Skibo," is a total abstainer from the use of alcoholic beverages. He is such an ardent advocate of total abstinence that he pays 10 per cent more than the agreed wages to each employee on his Skibo estate who does not drink during the year. In an address to young men recently Mr. Carnegie said:

"The first and most seductive path in the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation has proved to him, and I say to you that you are more likely to fall in your career from acquiring the habit of drinking liquor than from all other temptations likely to assail you. You may yield to it, but you will find that it is the drinking of liquor, I am no temperance lecturer in disguise, but a man who knows and tells you what observation

THE CLEARFIELD PROGRESS

Published Every Day, Except Sun day by the

PROGRESSIVE PUBLISHING CO.
CLEARFIELD, PA.

Official organ of the Washington Party of Clearfield county.

OFFICERS:

Robert H. Sommersville, President.
James H. Minda, Vice President.
E. W. Hess, Treasurer.
Harry A. Reed, Sec. and Gen. Mgr
John R. Bixler, Editor.

DIRECTORS:

James H. Minda,
Robert H. Sommersville,
A. S. Mouthrop,
A. B. Mosser,
John W. Barrett,
E. W. Hess,
Harry A. Reed.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION:

One Year . . . . . $3.00
Six Months . . . . . 1.50
One Month . . . . . 25
Three Months . . . . . 75
Postage Free in United States.

Entered at the Post Office at Clearfield, Pa., as mail matter of the Second class.

MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 15.

COMING EVENTS.

Anti-Saloon League convention Clearfield district, Clearfield, Oct. 7.
Panzanawany fair, Sept. 16, 17, 18, 19.
DuBois fair, Sept. 30, Oct. 1, 2, 3.

Good evening! For whom are you going to vote for judge tomorrow?

NON-PARTISAN JUDICIARY.

For the first time in the history of Pennsylvania the voters will have an opportunity tomorrow to record their endorsement of a non-partisan judiciary. Under the law enacted by the legislature at its recent session, the candidates for judge in this county and other counties of the state will have their names printed on a non-partisan ballot. That is, the names of the candidates will appear upon the ballot without any party designation, and voters will mark upon the list the name of the candidate they favor.

The purpose of this law was to enable voters to choose as judicial candidates men who would go before the people upon their merits. The courts should not be tainted with politics, for a judge should administer the law with regard only to justice and impartiality. A political judge is likely to be prejudiced, be he otherwise honest as may be.

In the contest just closing there is no other candidate who has made a more favorable impression upon the voters than has Oscar Mitchell. Mr. Mitchell has appealed to all classes of voters in a straightforward manner, and no one has been deceived as to the stand he has taken on the issues of the campaign. He regards the liquor license question as the paramount issue before the people, and has won the regard of the voters of all political parties by his unwavering allegiance to the cause of temperance. His stand on wholesale-retail liquor license question is unequivocal and cannot be misunderstood.

There is a strong temperance sentiment among the people of Clearfield county, and as Oscar Mitchell is the only candidate for judge who makes a plain, satisfactory statement as to his position on this issue, the friends of temperance and the advocates of law and order find in Mr. Mitchell a candidate not only worthy of their support, but one who is entitled to the nomination, because of his loyalty to the cause of good government. Voters who endorse the campaign against the liquor traffic can give their votes to Oscar Mitchell with full reliance that, if elected, he will do all in his power to bring county as are the hope and desire of the friends of temperance and the foes of intemperance.

THE TARIFF AND BEEF

While most Americans are opposed to reductions in the tariff rates and discuss the dangers of free trade, they do not pay as much heed as they should to the fact that the tariff neither makes nor breaks monopolies. Regardless of the tariff monopolies exist and will exist until such time as the people rise in their might and refuse to buy monopoly-controlled products.

Just at this time the beef trust comes in for a share of the condemnation which is visited upon monopolies. The beef trust control the production and price of meat and it is safe to say that the beef trust is not in business for the fun of it. It matters not to the beef trust whether cattle are numerous or scarce, it reaps its harvest from the people, and the people are helpless to prevent the robbery.

In some cities retail butchers are combining to fight the beef trust, being ashamed to look their customers in the face when selling them the prices of meat. In larger cities butchers can build cooperative plants and kill and pack meats, but in the smaller towns this method of fighting the beef trust would be ineffectual. If, however, the people in the smaller towns were to agree among themselves to abstain from the use of meat for a certain period they would eventually force the beef trust to lower its prices.

On Saturday there appeared the Advocate, an Afro-American newspaper, the first of its kind to be published in Clearfield county. The paper is issued in the interests of the negro race of the county. H. J. Williams is its editor, and the first number is a very creditable publication.

Let me make Chautauqua speeches and I care not who runs the office of secretary of state, is probably what Bryan thinks.

There are other places than in congress where the currency problem is being discussed.

No autoist would like to be regarded as a criminal, but in running his machine in a reckless manner the mad motorist is nothing less than a criminal.

"Hoc de Kaiser:" The German emperor has had himself tied to the water wagon.

This is the time of year, when the cold waves admonish us that cold weather is coming and young men are thinking of those overcoats in stock, that bachelor clubs sworn to celibacy are being organized.

Vote as you think tomorrow.

Dignity of Senatorial Visiting.

There is something impressive in the way one senator generally calls on another in the office building at Washington. A representative dignity precludes the old time free and easy method of "dropping in to see Tom" or Jim or Jack—kicking in the door and sitting down on the table or desk and "smoking up" without invitation. Today there is a sedate step, measured and regular, as the senator sets out to call, with a manner and bearing that at once suggest senatorial dignity and courtesy. Such a bearing and dignity must perforce take the place of the impressive senatorial toga of the old days and a visiting dramatist (a lady, to be sure) has suggested that it would be most fascinating to come to the senate on some holiday and find the distinguished gentlemen who now wear tweed and business suits attired in the Caesarian toga and mantle—a mise en scene that would leave Shakespeare's Julius Caesar at its best presentation hopelessly in the background.—Joe Mitchell Chapple in National Magazine.

Dreamland.

Most people sleep for about eight hours out of the daily twenty-four. That means they sleep one-third of each day, or one-third of their entire lives. And according to many scientists, the whole time we are asleep we dream. We do not remember most of these dreams. Indeed, we remember only the very last one before we wake or some dream that is so vivid it wakes us. In other words, for one-third of our total lives we are dwelling in dreamland. And dreamland is a country of more utter absurdities, more grisly horrors, more fears, hopes, surprises and novelties than any land described by the most imaginative author. It is a land full of mystery, a land that science has for sixty centuries sought in vain to explore. It lies amid wholly unexplored regions of the human brain, regions which its possessor never saw.—New York World.

Oyster Liquid.

Only one oyster opener in fifty seems to know that the best thing by far about an oyster is the liquid in its shell. Watch the other forty-nine and you will see them wantonly wasting this precious, fragrant liquid, and in many cases they will serve the oyster on the flat shell, so that you get no juice at all. Always ask for them on the shell, and don't be afraid after you have transferred the morsel to your mouth to drink the liquid from the shell. It may not look elegant, but elegance be hanged!—Henry T. Pink's "Food and Flavor."

Job Not in It.

WILLIE—Pa, why do people talk about the pittance of Job? Henpeck—Because they don't know your father, my son Baltimore Sun.

WANTED—Position by experienced stenographer. Address W. this office.

Wanted.

Girls wanted at the Clearfield Laundry at once. 12 Sept. 2-w.

FRECKLES
Coming

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

JUDGE 46th JUDICIAL DISTRICT.

The Clearfield Progress is authorized to announce the name of OSCAR MITCHELL, of Clearfield, as a candidate for Judge of the 46th Judicial District of Pennsylvania (Clearfield county), at the Judicial Non-Partisan Primary election to be held Tuesday September 16th, 1913.

The Clearfield Progress is authorized to announce the name of ALLISON O. SMITH as a candidate for the office of President Judge of the 46th Judicial District of Pennsylvania (Clearfield county), at the Judicial Non-Partisan Primary election to be held Tuesday, September 16th 1913.

W. C. MILLER, of Clearfield, Pa announces himself as a candidate for Judge of Clearfield County. Primary election, Tuesday, September 16, 1913 Your vote and influence respectfully solicited.

The Clearfield Progress is authorized to announce the name of SINGLETON BELL, of Clearfield, as a candidate for Judge of the 46th Judicial District of Pennsylvania (Clearfield county), at the Judicial Non-Partisan Primary election to be held Tuesday September 16th, 1913.

The Clearfield Progress is authorized to announce the name of JAMES H. KELLBY as a candidate for the office of President Judge of the 46th Judicial District of Pennsylvania (Clearfield county), at the Judicial Non-Partisan Primary election to be held Tuesday, September 16th 1913.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY.

The Clearfield Progress is authorized to announce the name of E. G. BOOSE, of DuBois Borough, as a candidate for District Attorney, subject to the rules of the Washington Party.

The Progress is authorized to announce the name of JOHN M. UREY of Clearfield borough, as a candidate for District Attorney, subject to the action of the Republican voters of Clearfield county at the Primary Election, Tuesday, September 16 1913 Postoffice address, Clearfield, Pa

The Clearfield Progress is authorized to announce the name of WALTER WELSH for the office of District Attorney, subject to the rules governing the Democratic Party Primary election, Tuesday September 16

The Clearfield Progress is authorized to announce the name of LEWIS C. BOYER, of DuBois, as a candidate for the office of District Attorney, subject to the rules governing the Democratic party. Primary election Tuesday, September 16.

FOR SHERIFF.

The Clearfield Progress is authorized to announce the name of REUBEN M. KNARR, of Clearfield as a candidate for Sheriff, subject to the rules of the Washington (Progressive) party.

The Progress is authorized to announce the name of CHARLES W. FREY, of DuBois, as a candidate for sheriff of Clearfield county, subject to the rules governing the Washington (Progressive) party.

The Clearfield Progress is authorized to announce the name of IRA C. McCLOSKEY, of Clearfield as a candidate for Sheriff, subject to the rules governing the Democratic Party. Primary election, Tuesday September 16

FOR SUPERVISOR

The Clearfield Progress is authorized to announce the name of JOHN SCHICKLING, for Road Supervisor, of Lawrence Township. Primary election Tuesday, September 16.

The Clearfield Progress is authorized to announce the name of JOHN RICHARDS, of the Glen Richey precinct, Lawrence township, as a candidate for supervisor, for the four year term, subject to the rules of the Republican party.

JURY COMMISSIONER.

The Clearfield Progress is authorized to announce the name of RICHARD J. DUCKETT as a candidate for Jury Commissioner, on the Democratic ticket.

NOTICE.

Under family agreement, which has been recorded in Clearfield County, I am authorized to settle the estate of Smith V Wilson, deceased, and to collect all monies due said estate. All persons having claims against, or knowing themselves to be in debt to the said estate will present said claims at once for settlement, and pay said debts to the above named estate at my residence at 118 South Second Street, Clearfield, Pa.

MRS. SMITH V. WILSON.
Sept. 9 2-w.

How to Use Discarded Paper.

The old paper that comes over butter can be used for papering cake tins, while that which comes from the inside of cracker boxes is good for a dozen different things—for instance, cheese may be kept moist by wrapping in this paper, also sandwiches.

If the cake is getting brown too quickly covering with waxed paper will check it.

Sheets of wrapping paper will save labor very often. One can use it to prepare chickens on for the oven, roll crackers, pare apples or slice bread, when the paper can be rolled up and dropped into the garbage pail.

Newspapers laid upon the floor before an open grate when taking out the ashes will save the carpet considerably, and one lighted when shaking down a grate will carry the dust up the chimney.

These little conveniences do not cost a cent, but once they are put in their value is sure to be appreciated.

How to Sharpen a Lawn Mower.

A great many women mow their own lawns, and when the mower is sharp it is a delight, but if the mower is dull it becomes a laborious task. Here is a way to sharpen a dull mower: Get some real fine emery powder and mix it up with a thick oil, such as linseed oil, lard oil or crude oil. The latter is the cheapest and best for this purpose. Apply the mixture to the edge of the knives with a paint brush and turn the mower just as you would while cutting grass. In a very few minutes you will have a cutting edge that will last a long time.

Now try this and you can make lots of pin money sharpening mowers for your friends and neighbors.

How to Cure Baldness.

If you are growing bald and want to encourage your hair to remain with you turn to play the violin, cello or double bass, or even the piano will do. M. de Parville, a French scientist, has been collecting statistics of musicians, and he finds that playing stringed instruments has a tonic effect on the hair. This may explain why violinists and pianists so often have long manes. The vibration of the strings seems to be just the sort of massage that the hair thrives on. On the other hand woe to your locks if you play a wind instrument. The vibration for such instruments seems to be too much for the poor hairs, and they give up and let go. So accepted is this effect now that the French doctors call it "brass band baldness."

FRECKLES
Coming

FORMER GOVERNOR R. B. GLENN'S

REASON FOR TOTAL ABSTINENCE

In my younger days I used to use a little wine for my stomach's sake, but I can say to you now that not one drop shall ever pass my lips. I can give you the reason for the faith that is in me. I have seen strong and brave and good men laid low by this terrible demon. The names of seven of my young friends from the days of youth come flitting before my memory—men some of them whose shoes I was unworthy to unlace. Where are these men today? Three of them are in their graves, two are in insane asylums, two are a disgrace to their state—all laid low by this demon. I have seen young men go out as men of promise only to be ruined by this monster. I have seen young women go out with elasticity in their steps, roses upon their cheeks and sweet smiles upon their lips. Later I have seen these same women watching and listening and praying, yet dreading to hear the return of a husband's footsteps, not knowing whether he would come drunk or sober. I have seen the hat taken off the head, I have seen the clothes taken off the back, I have seen the shoes taken off the feet of little boys and girls of my state.—Ex-Governor Robert B. Glenn of North Carolina.

ROBERT B. GLENN

Fall Shoes

are arriving, a well selected stock for all the family. Our heavy and light weight Rubbers for Men, Ladies and Children now in.

Bartlett Pears due Wednesday or Thursday. Pears promised for Monday the 15th. Send us your orders. Prices right in bushel baskets.

We have a complete line of E-Z & Mason's Jars, Tin Cans, Jar Caps, Jar Rubbers, Sealing Wax, Wax Strings, Paro Wax, Crocks and Cooking Utensils.

Red Peppers
Mangoes
Bananas

Pine Apples
White Pkg. On.
Spanish Onions

Turnips
Lopes
Sweet Potatoes

ROSS & WOODS

The Typewriter Used by

"Big Business"

—Yours for 17 Cents a Day!

The Oliver Typewriter No. 5--the famous Printype Model used by the world's greatest firms and corporations--is offered to anyone, anywhere, for 17 Cents a Day. The same model which the purchasing agents of "Big Business" buy by the HUNDRED, now sold to the public for PENNIES.

Sold at the regular $100 price, but ON TERMS SO EASY that each machine quickly pays for itself. The price includes all the latest improvements, the special time-saving devices and the beautiful new Printype obtainable only on this model.

A Profit-Sharing Agency Plan

We now have in operation in the United States and Canada more than 15,000 Oliver Local Agencies. These agents have received hundreds of thousands of dollars in profits on sales of Oliver Typewriters.

There are still hundreds of places where no agencies are established. Applicants for Oliver Local Agencies must be earnest workers. They need not have had previous experience.

We enroll them at once in The Oliver School of Practical Salesmanship and teach them selling—all as part of the free training given Oliver Agents.

When they have proved their worth, we promote them to the direct service, in which they may rise to the highest positions in the Company.

One of our general officials began his Oliver career as a Local Agent at Waco, Texas.

Printype
OLIVER
Typewriter

Standard Visible Writer

The Oliver is the best seller because it is the best typewriter. It has many exclusive features. It is the only typewriter made in typewriter construction.

We GUARANTEE Printype to be exclusively used on Oliver Typewriters.

Oliver Agents sell Printype Oliver in thousands. The demand is voluntary and steady.

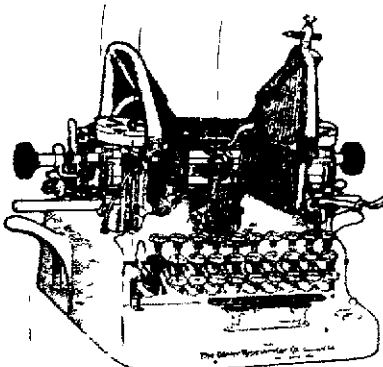

Oliver Agents are permitted to sell our 17-cents-a-day Plan, which puts the Oliver in everyone's reach. Agents may even secure their own sample outfits on the 17-Cents-a-day Plan and let their agency earnings help to carry the deal.

Oliver agents are protected in exclusive selling rights in the territory given them. They own the local typewriter business.

When you apply, be sure to give some details about the typewriter sales possibilities of your town, village or city.

And Don't Delay

We like and reward promptness. Full details of Agency Proposition, a specimen of Printype, the 17-Cents-a-Day Plan and other interesting information will be sent immediately on receipt of your application.

The Oliver Typewriter Company

800 Penn Ave., Pittsburg, Pa.

HARRY A. REED Special Oliver Representative for Clearfield and Curwensville.

MACKINAW COATS SWEATER COATS

We buy both of these lines direct from the manufacturers. We buy the best and we buy them right. We have the goods.

Sweater Coats 50c to $12 Mackinaw Coats $5 to $8

See everybody's then you will buy Flegal's.

H. J. FLEGAL, Second Street

The Saloon Is Ashamed of Its Best Customers.

THE MODERATE DRINKER.

He is a Menace Not Only to Himself, but to Others.

By L. D. MASON, M. D.

A prevalent and popular fallacy is that the moderate drinker may always remain as such, that moderate drinking is always under control and the habit can be left off at any time and always kept within the limitations of safety and sobriety. This false doctrine has ruined more lives than any other argument brought forward to sustain the habitual and moderate use of alcoholic beverages.

The drink habit is accretive and progressive. Tolerance is easily established, and larger quantities are required to meet the daily growing demand. It is exceptional for the moderate drinker to remain as such. As a rule all immoderate, habitual drunkards were once moderate drinkers. Exception to this does not prove the rule, and no amount of specious sophistry can alter the natural sequence in this particular. The accustomed dose under normal conditions will not be sufficient under abnormal conditions.

The term moderate or temperate use of alcoholic beverages is not definite. There is not any established or definitely ascertained quantity that we can use daily or habitually within the bounds of safety and exclude any possibility of mental or moral or physical degeneration. This is especially true of the reformed man or the man with hereditary tendencies or diseases or injuries affecting the cerebro spinal axis—that is the brain or spinal cord or chronic painful conditions in which the alcohol in some form is used for its anesthetic or narcotic effect.

The constant, habitual use of alcoholic beverages even in so called moderation is more dangerous than its occasional excessive use. Personally moral considerations excepted, the occasional excessive drinker is safer physically than the everyday habitual moderate drinker for the latter keeps his blood up to a certain percentage constantly alcoholized, while the former, at least during the interval between his debauches, has a chance of recovering a normal blood current.

In the great majority of cases of habitual drunkards the parents or grandparents used alcohol in moderation habitually or in excess. In a study of 400 cases that came under my supervision in which I made a study of the family history none escaped the record of antecedent degeneracy from various forms of mania, nervous disease, consumption and other conditions of alcoholic degeneration there being evidence enough to demonstrate the relative sequence between drinking parents and a drunken posterity.

I believe that the starting point of the alcoholic degenerate can be traced not infrequently to the so called moderate habitual use of alcohol in some form by a respectable temperate immoderate progenitor who was never drunk and who prided himself on his self restraint and yet this paragon of virtue and respectability was giving to the world, through his poisoned blood, although moderately alcoholized, it is true, a posterity of physical and mental weakness and ignorantly and unconsciously starting a race of neuritis, idiots and lunatics and begetting a long line of alcoholic degenerates. And how many families in this land of ours are free from the alcoholic taint in the direct or collateral branches extending even to one generation back?

Big Business Men Total Abstinents.
An investigation into the personal habits of twenty eight of the biggest business men in the country shows that twenty two of them are total abstainers. These are men whose judgment is valued in business affairs, whose opinions carry weight. They are men whose example it is safe to follow.

AN OFFICIAL WARNING.

The following temperance manifesto has been endorsed by the Prussian minister of education and is to be shortly sent out by the German health office to be posted in public places:

- Do not give your child a single drop of wine.
- Not a drop of beer.
- Not a drop of spirits.
- Why?
- Because alcohol in every form and even in small doses injures children.
- How?
- First—It checks their physical and intellectual development.
- Second—Consumption of spirits brings with it exhaustion and causes weariness and inattention in school children.
- Third—Alcohol helps to increase disobedience to parents.
- Fourth—It causes sleeplessness and premature nervousness.
- Fifth—It causes infant mortality.
- Sixth—It weakens the body's powers of resistance and prepares the ground in this way for many sicknesses.
- Seventh—It increases the duration of various sicknesses.
- Eighth—It awakens thirst continually and can in this way make men habitual drinkers.

Bilious?

One of Ayer's Pills at bedtime—just one. Acts on the liver. Gently laxative. Sugar-coated. All vegetable. Sold for 60 years.

Ask Your Doctor.

America's 95,000,000 People.

Only two countries in the world—China, with 350,000,000 people and Russia, with 140,000,000—have a larger population than the United States, but in general effectiveness of its units the United States' 95,000,000 is a much greater weight in the world's scale than is either Russia or China. Its wealth and the volume and variety of its activities are also far larger than those of the two countries named or of any other nation. Moreover, the rate of growth of the United States is likewise much more impressive than that of any other first class country. Of the countries which rank next to the United States in population Germany has 65,000,000 inhabitants, Austria Hungary 50,000,000, Japan 46,000,000, the United Kingdom 46,000,000, France 39,000,000, Italy 32,000,000 and Spain 19,000,000. And our lead over each of these is steadily lengthening.—Leslie's

The Truth About Alcohol.

Frederick Peterson, M. D., professor of psychiatry at Columbia University and ex-president of the New York state commission on insanity, has the following printed on his prescription blanks:

Alcohol is a poison. It is claimed by some that alcohol is a food. If so, it is a poisoned food. The daily regular use of alcohol, even in moderation, often leads to chronic alcoholism. One is poisoned less rapidly by the use of beer than by drinking wine, gin, whiskey and brandy. Alcohol is one of the most common causes of insanity, epilepsy, paralysis, diseases of the liver and stomach, dropsy and tuberculosis. A father or mother who drinks poison the children born to them so that many die in infancy while others grow up as idiots and epileptics.

FRECKLES Coming

Your Vote and Influence
Solicited.

D. B. McCarty

"The Baker"

Democratic Candidate For TAX COLLECTOR

Primary Election, Tuesday
September 16th

Mother's Bread IS GOOD BREAD

Get it at the

CITY BAKERY

NO. 13 THIRD ST.

Clearfield, Penn'a.

JACOBSON'S New and Second Hand Furniture Store

Will save you money on all kinds of Furniture.

Come in and see the nice Furniture we have.

212 Reed St.

Clearfield

A City of Forty Mosques.

The city of Adrianople is very much scattered and contains somewhere about 80,000 inhabitants, half of whom are Turks and the others Armenians, Israelites and Greeks. The walls which formerly surrounded the city had been allowed to fall to ruins, and since the 1880-Turkish war the city has been in a state of decline. Much of its old splendor has disappeared, but many of its forty mosques are fine examples of eastern architecture. The city has had a very varied history since its foundation in the second century by the Roman Emperor Hadrian. A great victory was won there by the Goths in 378 and another by the Avar Huns in 586. Twice the Russians have occupied the city—first in 1829, when they forced Turkey to give independence to Greece, and again in 1878, when they occupied it without resistance.—New York Herald.

New Lifeboat Rules.

Revised rules for life saving appliances at sea have just been issued by the British board of trade. A table showing the number of davits which must be provided specifies what number must be carried on vessels of various lengths. Thus vessels under 100 feet in length must carry two davits. Vessels between 245 and 270 feet must carry six davits. Those of from 360 to 390 feet, ten davits; vessels of from 450 to 510 feet, fourteen davits. Those from 590 to 670 feet must carry eight-teen davits, etc.; those from 750 to 840 feet, twenty-two davits, and vessels from 940 to 1,040 feet must carry twenty-six davits. The number of lifeboats or approved substitutes therefor must provide a seat for every passenger.—Kansas City Star.

Waiter Hines Page.

St. James and his court are to be congratulated on their delightful new American ambassador, of whom many genial things are being said, all of them true, especially those about his editorial nomadism. He would decline a manuscript in such a flattering way that you saved the note with a view to having it mimeographed on your tombstone. And at a pinch Mr. Page could do still better, as when he said to a lady who had often written for but never in the Atlantic Monthly, "My dear madam, you take rejection so sweetly that it is a positive sorrow to be forced to tell you that your story is enthusiastically accepted"—New York Tribune.

An Admission.

Teacher—What is a vacuum? Boy—I know, teacher. I have it in my head, but I can't just think of it.—Brooklyn Life.

No man can produce great things who is not thoroughly sincere in dealing with himself.

Removal Sale Bargains In Wall Paper

For the next 30 days, commencing SEPTEMBER 15th I will sell my entire stock of Wall Paper from 1-3 to 1-2 and some less than 1-2 the regular price.

At The SPECK WALL PAPER STORE

Opposite Post Office

CLEARFIELD, PENN'A.

SEASONABLE HARDWARE MERCHANDISE

|                              |                             |
|------------------------------|-----------------------------|
| Mason Jars                   | Aluminum Preserving Kettles |
| E. Z. Seal Jars              | Jar Rubbers,                |
| Tin Fruit Cans               | Jar Funnels,                |
| Jar Caps,                    | Wire Bowl Strainers,        |
| Jar Wrenches,                | Wire Presses,               |
| Wax Strings,                 | Fruit Strainers,            |
| Parowax                      | Paring Knives and Corers    |
| Enameled Preserving Kettles, | Kitchen Scales.             |

MAY WE SUPPLY YOUR NEEDS?

Telephone Orders GIVEN PROMPT ATTENTION

Clearfield Hardware Co.

125 Market Street,

Clearfield, Penn'a.

PERSONAL MENTION

Miss Brickley left Friday for Avis, where she will spend her vacation.

Alfred Mahaffey left today for State College.

Ross Benchoff, of Chambersburg, spent Sunday in town.

Burton Shively left today for State College.

Clement Dale, Esq. of Bellefonte was a guest at the Dimeling Saturday.

Mrs. Charles Hyde, of Pittsburg, visited friends in town last week.

Miss Edith Patton and Alex Patton, of Curwensville, attended a dance in Philipsburg Friday evening.

Mrs. W. H. Patterson and daughter Emma, motored as far as Tyrone yesterday on their way to Philadelphia.

Francis Thompson, of Portage, Pa., spent Sunday with his sister, Mrs. Grant Thompson, on Front street.

W. Pentz and son John Pentz, of Clearfield, were Clearfield visitors on Saturday.

J. Kneib, a wide awake citizen of Philipsburg, was in town on business Saturday.

Guy Ogden left yesterday for Baltimore, after spending his vacation with his parents in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Delaney and daughter, Florence, spent last week in Williamsport.

Geo. W. Johnson

Sanitary
Plumbing,
Tinning,
Heating and Ventilating.

GIVE US A CALL

28 S. SECOND ST.,
CLEARFIELD, - PENN'A

Sunday Excursion

TO

Watkins Glen

September 21st

$2.00 Round Trip

Good only on special train leaving
CLEARFIELD - - - 5.00 a.m.

Returning same day.

For time of trains and further information consult New York Central Ticket Agent.

NEW YORK CENTRAL LINES

A Birthday Story

The Scene Is Laid In the War Between the States

By Captain F. A. MITCHEL

"Grandma," said Alice, "this is my birthday. I am, as you know, sixteen today. Mamma says that you were just sixteen the day the battle of something or other—I don't remember what—was fought. I wish you would tell me something about the great war, something that you were interested in, for my birthday."

"You'll have to ask grandpa to do that, for, while he was a soldier boy of '61, I never heard a shot fired. But I can tell you an incident with which I was remotely connected which may interest you. It is true that I was sixteen years old the day the battle of Fredericksburg was fought, and there

"THERE HE IS," SAID THE STORY TELLER, are reasons why the name of the battle should be more deeply impressed on my memory than on yours.

"Of course we of the north devoured the accounts of the battles of the war, and I, in reading an account of Fredericksburg, was interested in a soldier in the ranks of one of the Union regiments who, when all the officers were killed off, took command and led the remnant of the men clear up to the southern line. There he fell and was carried away by his comrades. We were much more apt to be impressed by a single act of heroism like this than by a great victory of a whole army, and I thought a great deal about this soldier who had stepped out from the ranks to lead a handful of his comrades, who had been spared from the awful shower of bullets and shells and cannon balls which had a clean sweep over that unbroken incline from the river to the ridge. I pictured him tall and slender, with a resolute face, coal black eyes and wavy black hair. I suppose I pictured him dark because we usually associate strength and will power with dark complexioned persons and mildness with blonds.

"Two or three months after the battle of Fredericksburg I was visiting some friends in Pennsylvania. I was told that there were several soldiers on the place who had been wounded in the battle, on leave of absence, recovering from their wounds. I was anxious to see one of them, just as any one is interested in seeing a curiosity. One of them was a colonel, and I think the others were soldiers in the ranks.

"One day I went to return a call a lady had made on me as a stranger, for those were the days of hospitality, and on being shown into a room a man, or rather, a boy, for he didn't look to be more than seventeen or eighteen years old, was reading a book. He didn't rise as I entered, though he made something of an effort to do so, but he greeted me with a pleasant smile, and since the hostess was quite awhile coming down we fell to talking.

"I fancy," I said, "that you are an invalid."

"I'm not exactly an invalid; I'm a convalescent," he said. "But I think a couple of weeks more will let me up."

"This is not a good season for one to be sick," was my next remark. "Last spring about this time I was obliged to be away from school two months on account of illness, and it threw me back in my classes. Are you in school?"

"Well, no; I haven't been to school for more than a year. You see, these times are so exciting that boys can't very well be kept at school. Some of them go for the nearest recruiting station, pass for more than the required age, eighteen, and enlist. But I didn't have any trouble on that score. I was nineteen."

"You don't mean that you are a soldier?"

"Yes," he replied, smiling at my surprise. "I'm older than I look. I'm twenty."

"Oh, you're one of those I have heard of who were wounded in the battle of Fredericksburg?"

"Well, yes. I was in that fight."

"My goodness gracious! You don't mean that the army is composed of such?"

"I stopped short, realizing that what I was saying was by no means complimentary."

"Such measly material as I? No. I admit that I'm not a fair specimen. I scraped through as to height when I enlisted, measuring barely five feet four. I weighed 110 pounds, though, he added proudly, "though I don't believe I'd pull up a hundred now."

"You mean ninety?"

"I thought what a shame it was to send such a strapping out to be shot down like a dog, and that, too, by human beings. The sight of him gave me a repugnance to war I've never recovered from, and I am happy to say that every year war is rendered more difficult among civilized nations and consequently is less likely to occur."

"Were you very badly wounded?" I asked.

"Badly enough to be laid up three months thus far. The surgeon says that I've got another month of it, but I'm not going to stand it. I'm going back next week."

"Not going to stand it! I should think you wouldn't stand to go back at all!"

"I wish you would tell me," I said later, "how you felt when you were marching up against those 'Confederates' and the hailstorm of bullets."

"At first I felt kind o' sick at my stomach. That's the way a good many of us felt, I reckon. If we tell the truth, when I saw men shot down about me it made me mad. The rest of the time I was mad; that's about all of it. Soldiers become like dogs or any other brute when they are in fighting trim."

"That's an ignoble view to take of it."

"It's the true view all the same." "It occurred to me to ask him if he knew the young soldier I had read about who had taken command of what was left of his regiment and was leading the men forward when he was shot down. He said there was nothing in that, for when the officers were all killed somebody must take command and it was likely to be the maddest man left. There were many such cases."

"Why weren't they reported?" I asked.

"I read only of this one."

"Oh, reports of battles are manu factured," he replied. "It's dog eat dog in a fight, and that's all there is about it."

"At this point the lady on whom I called came down to receive me."

"Permit me to introduce my nephew, Colonel Stevens," she said.

"I looked about for Colonel Stevens but saw no such person. My eyes finally rested on the stripling I had been talking to, and I noticed an amused look on his face. What did it mean? That boy a colonel? It could not be possible."

"Charlie doesn't look much like a colonel in his present condition," said the hostess, "but I fancy he looked more military when at Fredericksburg he took command of some seventy or eighty men, all that were left of 600 who were struggling on up that slope in face of a murderous fire."

"They say that a drowning person sees his whole life pictured before him. Every word I had spoken to the man came up to appall me, though it is a wonder that I ever got beyond mistaking him for a schoolboy. I sank into a chair in collapse. My hostess, seeing my confusion, looked amused, but the subject of my mistakes, now that the truth was coming out, began to look annoyed. Finally when I had regained my tongue I asked:

"Are you the man I read about who?"

"He made no reply, but his aunt replied for him. 'Yes,' she said, 'he is the Stevens whose conspicuous act of bravery was reported at the time.'

"While the others didn't happen to get into the newspapers," put in the hero.

"The regiment is being reorganized," added the aunt, "and Charlie is to be its commander. He has already been promoted to be colonel for gallant and meritorious services at the battle of Fredericksburg."

"There are persons who love to hear their praise sounded if not merited, but a few are annoyed even at listening to words of encomium that are richly deserved. Charlie resumed his reading, which had been interrupted by my entrance. To him it had been perfectly natural when he saw the men deprived of their leaders to spring to the front and shout, 'Come on!' He could see nothing remarkable in this and could not be convinced that it was remarkable or that he should be heralded in the newspapers and promoted above his fellows, any one of whom if given a little time had been as likely as himself to do what he did. This, at any rate, was his view of the matter, and I have never been able to change his opinion."

"Why, grandma, who was this man?" asked the girl who had listened to the story.

"Oh," exclaimed the old lady, "I forgot!"

"Forgot what?"

"At the moment a diminutive old gentleman with snow white hair entered the room."

"There he is!" said the story teller.

"Well, what is it?" asked the old man, discovering that he was an object of interest.

"This is Alice's sixteenth birthday," said the old lady, "and she remembered that I was sixteen the day the battle of Fredericksburg was fought. She called for a war story, and I told her one about you."

The old man frowned. "Don't tell that again," he said. "War was made for wild animals. It's unnecessary, and from now on the disputes formerly settled by murder will be tried in international courts—at least, that's the proper place for them. I hope there'll be no more legitimate killing."

Misunderstanding.

Distressed Damsel—Oh, sir, catch that man! He wanted to kiss me! Pensive Pedestrian—That's all right. There'll be another one along in a minute.—Purple Cow.

Once Is Enough.

Prob—They say lightning never strikes twice in the same place. Kohn—Well, what's the use?—Louisville Times

D. F. GUELICH

DEALER IN

...COAL...

Mines close to town. Coal from the famous Moshannon vein. Also other veins suitable for steam and domestic purposes. A postal addressed to D. F. Guelich, Clearfield R. F. D. No. 2, will bring you a load of coal promptly. H. & C. Phone.

PEACHES PEACHES

Car of Ohio sweet yellow free-stone peaches in bushel baskets promised us Monday, September 15. We expect this to be nice fruit and moderate prices. Our pickling and spice department is now at your service. GET BUSY. Early frosts will shorten the tomato and cucumber crop.

R. C. Shaw Grocery Co.

The County National Bank OF CLEARFIELD, PA.

The Oldest Bank in Clearfield County

Capital, . . . . . $ 500,000
Surplus and Profits, . . . . . 500,000
Total Invested Capital, . . . . . $1,000,000

THE VALUE OF THE BANK TO THE COMMUNITY IS DETERMINED BY:

1st. The security which it offers for the deposits of the people.

2nd. Its ability to lend customers their business wants.

3rd. In measuring this bank by that standard remember: Its invested capital (capital, surplus and profits) which stands between the depositor and loss, is more than one million dollars.

4th. Its total resources, which, together with its capital, determines its loaning ability are more than three and one-half million dollars.

LITTLE STRAWS

IT'S the little straws that shows which way the wind blows. It's the little courtesies we extend our depositors that show the spirit that prevails at the CLEARFIELD NATIONAL BANK. The small depositor is as welcome as the large one.

HOUSEHOLD accounts are objects of particular care with us and we hope the ladies will make full use of our facilities. There are writing and rest rooms solely for their use. There is a teller's window where they can get crisp new bills.

IT is unfortunately true that many women have no reliable source of advice in matters financial. When such is the case, our officers are ever ready to extend the most disinterested counsel. If you will but consult with us, we can relieve you of many cares and much anxiety.

THE CLEARFIELD NATIONAL is fully equipped financially and mentally to deal with any problems of banking, finance, foreign exchange, investment, savings and safe deposit.

IN EVERY LINE CLEARFIELD NATIONAL SERVICE MEANS PERFECT SATISFACTION.

Clearfield National Bank

ROBINSON & COMPANY

Big Reduction on Boys' School Suits, Shoes, Hats, Etc.

| Boys' School Suits, were $2.50 now $1.98 |   |   |      | These come in Norfolk, and Plain, Knickerbocker, Cassimeres and Worsteds. New Colors and Styles |      |
|--------------------------------------------|---|---|------|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------|
| "                                          | " | " | 3.00 | "                                                                                               | 2.19 |
| "                                          | " | " | 3.50 | "                                                                                               | 2.48 |
| "                                          | " | " | 4.00 | "                                                                                               | 2.98 |
| "                                          | " | " | 4.50 | "                                                                                               | 3.19 |
| "                                          | " | " | 5.00 | "                                                                                               | 3.47 |
| "                                          | " | " | 6.00 | "                                                                                               | 3.98 |
| "                                          | " | " | 7.00 | "                                                                                               | 4.47 |
| "                                          | " | " | 8.00 | "                                                                                               | 4.98 |

Boys' School Shoes from 98c to $2.98, worth $1.50 to $4

Big Reduction in Men's Odd End Suits. Rugs at Big Reductions

FREE!

Game Laws!

FREE!

The new 1913-1914 Game Laws in full—also Fish Laws, just received. There are a great many changes in the law, and you should get posted before the season opens. Come in and get one, we have lots of them and will be glad to give you as many as you want, FREE OF CHARGE.

Opposite Witmer Inn

HARDER'S GUN WORKS

Clearfield, Penn'a